

Cynthia L. Strobel

October 22, 1961 - May 21, 2020

Cynthia L. Strobel (nee Christensen) passed away peacefully on Thursday, May 21, 2020 at her home in Maple Shade surrounded by her family. She was 58 years old. While she was born in Philadelphia to Johannes and Leona Christensen, she was a lifelong resident of Maple Shade.

Survived by her loving husband of 36 years, Jan Strobel, as well as her three sons, Michael (Aimee), Jason, and Steven. She was also a cherished grandmom to Hannah. Predeceased by her sister, Eleanor Christensen.

Cindy loved to laugh and enjoyed spending quality time with her family and friends, vacationing in the Outer Banks and visiting her second home in the Poconos. She enjoyed having a nice glass of wine, crafting, and quality time with her granddaughter, Hannah. Cindy was a devoted mother and enjoyed her children so much that she made a career of providing child care to working parents in town. She will be forever known to many as "Miss Cindy."

Due to the current circumstances, a private service for Cindy will be held this Wednesday, May 27th. Funeral Services will be live-streamed for the public on Wednesday at 11:00 a.m. <http://www.givnish.com>. A private interment at Lakeview Memorial Park will follow.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorial contributions to Bringing Hope Home: 641 Swedesford Rd. Malvern, PA 19355 - bringinghopehome.org

“ The devotion and love that Cindy gave to others is so very evident in the eyes of her husband, sons, and extended family. Her strength is evidenced by the battle that she faced and won for a very long time; her sense of humor and loving heart can be found in each of her sons and I have no doubt, her 2 year old granddaughter, Hannah. We started as friends and through creative matchmaking became family. We will forever be blessed to have known and loved Cindy. “ I first met Cindy in the mid 80” s. We were just two young girls working for Scarborough trying to figure out life. We had so much in common, we just clicked. From new husbands, to new babies, to figuring out our emotions on how to leave our babies at home while we went to work. We discussed everything. For the last few years of our employment there, they put us in the basement right next to each other. One of the best times of my life. Did you ever know someone who just knew how to tell a story, well Cindy was that person. And somehow, somehow she brought her humor into each and every story. The story could be tragic and somehow, we would wind up laughing. We would discuss everything from problems with our hubbies, to raising young babies, to in-laws. And she had great in-law stories. We were both fortunate to have our family babysit our babies, but it was still difficult leaving them. I remember she would burst into our cubical saying things like “they did it again, Cathy, they did it again. She would go into some story about how she smells oils and how they would be rubbing oils on Michael. I’d ask how she knew this, she said she would smell it on his feety jammies. And she would go into this song and dance on how she’d be smelling everything in the house. She was hysterical. She was so animated.

No one has ever made me laugh as much as Cindy. There was always some kind of prank her and Paul Rutter were planning. Everyday there was something. It was a joy going to work. Every year we would all dress up for Halloween. But Cindy always took it a step further. She would stay in character all day long. I have attached a picture of the funniest day of my life. We were both crazy scientists. Every time I would look to my left, she would go into some crazy story acting like this scientist. She was handed a real blow the last time we worked together. Breast cancer had struck but did not destroy her. She had a new baby to look forward to and two young boys to parent. So, she fought a great fight. I will never know anyone who was stronger than Cindy. She always kept a great attitude no matter what she was handed. She is the definition of WARRIOR.

Our career lives went different ways, but we kept in touch though out the years. Cindy was a great friend, the kind of friend you could pick up a phone years later and it was like yesterday we were sitting next to each other discussing our lives and the turns our road has taken us. Till I get to sit next to you again, rest in peace my dear friend. God has made you all new again. Your Kindred Spirit, Me

“ She will forever be known as “Mrs Strobelight” to the Loomis family! Ken is so thankful she entrusted him with her son Michael playing football years ago-and later on the other boys in football and baseball. She was an amazing lady who fought the good fight and will always be remembered by us.
