“ There are so many really great memories from the many years Elizabeth and I were friends, and actually more like sisters. Among all of the things she did for me, probably the most treasured, she was my son's god mother. There isn't time left in life or room on this page to tell you about all of the great times, some sad times, however, probably the most vivid are the memories of us being the "Ladies of the 80s". God has truly blessed us all by giving her to us, for letting us know and have her in our lives. I will never forget her.
