“ Mom

Thank you for spending the last 6 years in our home. Happy times. Sad times.

Lots of memories I will cherish forever.

Now there is an empty chair, an empty room, an emptiness in our home and hearts that can never be filled.

I will miss you forever.

Love you forever

“ Love can be found
Love can be lost
Love is fleeting
Love is patient
Love is kind
Love is understanding
Love is giving
Love is pain
Love is trust
Love is a smile, a warm touch, a hug

Your love for us cannot be measured or described and our love for you is endless
I will wait patiently to know your love again

“ There was nothing we ever did that was small. Every celebration, every holiday, every life event. So it is no surprise to me (maybe a little) to see the cascade of cars escorting Mom to her final resting place with dad. I really don't know how many cars. But when the funeral director said "this is a very short distance and normally takes a few minutes but with this size of a procession it will take 20 min) I thought Mom you're doing it your way!!!! LARGE 🤔🤔🤔 I was in awe when I saw how large💕 Mom as your favorite Frank would Sing --
I've lived a life that's full
I've traveled each and every highway
But more, much more than this
I did it my way 💕💕💕💕💕💕💕💕💕 LARGE

“ As I sit here this morning reflecting on your celebration of life yesterday, I am overwhelmed with Love & Pride.
I know you were so proud and felt honored and loved with your Beautiful Tribute.
The words, the tears, the laughter, the video and all the beautiful pictures telling a story of your Life & LOVE. I couldn't be more proud of our family.
It was a true testament of all the love you left with everyone who ever met you.
Forever in our Hearts Mom💕💕

“ There are so many memories I have of you. The many vacations you went on with us, the Christmas Eves on Hunting Park Ave., the Wildwood days, the girls weekends, the many Christmases you spent with us, the countless games of Scrabble. Over the last 7 years living so close you've given me so many more memories. Going out to lunch, shopping, our trips to DD, sitting on the porch & enjoying the warm weather, going for strolls around the neighborhood or just sitting in your room talking or laughing about something. O how I miss not being able to walk down the street to visit you. You were with us for so long it's hard to imagine life without you. My heart aches because you're not here anymore but I smile knowing you're in the arms of Dad again. Until we meet again, I love you 💕

“ Mom, You do know, as an Angel, you have your work cut out for you. Look at the size of this family you will be over seeing. Now that you are with Dad, he will tell you he needs to rest a bit after all those years of guiding us, and let you take the wheel back. Love and Miss you so much. Your laugh, your smile and just you will always be with me.

“ I remember Scrabble and Rummy.
I remember warm summer nights on the floor in front of the fan, watching TGIF.
I remember walks to Walgreens.
I remember hiding in the cubby, next to the microwave stand, where she kept the vacuum
I remember Egg & Cheese on English muffins.
I remember her dance moves.
I remember the Simon Jingle.
I remember her laugh. So clearly.
I remember her hugs.
I remember tomato slices with a sprinkle of salt.
I remember watching soap operas with her on my days home from school.
I remember brushing her hair after soaking it with a spray bottle.
I remember her energetic entrance at my wedding.
I remember her telling my kids how big they've gotten.
I remember how proud she always was of me.
I remember.
I Love You Gram!!! ❤️

“ This one time when I was young... I flooded my Grams kitchen... She always told me that story often when she needed a laugh... And I would turn to her and say... What did you say... And she would tell me the story all over but louder... After the third time of doing that to her... I get punched in the arm for being a smart ass... I'm still deaf to this day... But my Gram was my biggest fan and supporter... Always in my thoughts... Always in my prayers... Till we meet again Gram... I Love You... I LOVE YOU...!!!! I think you heard me the first time... xoxoxoxoxoxo
