“ Dear Lisa,

We are so sorry for your loss. Words, no matter how kind, can't mend your heartache. But know that you and your family are in our thoughts.

“ I like to say that my mother was spiritual rather than religious. I found an example of this today in her dresser drawer, written by her on a scrap of paper:

"Hope is like the sun, which as we travel toward it, casts the shadow of our burdens behind."

I take comfort that as she traveled toward the sun she did so knowing that while I will miss her every day she will always be with me, and that I will be okay.

“ I have such fond memories of Mrs. Davidson when Lisa and I were such close friends at Hillwood High and then at Vanderbilt University. I can see her now, looking at Lisa, Leeanna, Ceci, and me with such amusement. How proud she was of Lisa (and me too!) when we graduated from Vanderbilt. She was a lovely, kind woman. I am grateful that she has been reunited with her husband now, and I wish Lisa and Hugh, and the rest of Mrs. Davidson's family, comfort and peace.
