“ "It's good to be the King!", one of Charlie's favorite quotes, will always make me smile. The sweet smell of chocolate chip cookies or a delicious chocolate cake will remind me of him. And of course a Thanksgiving feast will forever be his signature meal. I never knew anyone who loved cop shows more than he did either. But most importantly, I'll remember Charlie for the honorable man that he was. He was a loving family man and a genuinely good, honorable man.

“ Charlie was a great friend, neighbor and gym mate. He was always ready to help in any way that he could and so appreciative of any thing that one could do for him. He showed such endurance and bravery in the last several months while his health was failing. Laura and I will miss him as will many others whom he touched during his life.

“ If you knew Carlie, you loved him. Many memories of going out to lunch and dinners. We were always laughing about something! We had may good talks at Healthpoint sitting in the rocking chairs about his many experiences! He is in good company with my David -- I am sure they are having a good time as they watch over us! Will definitely miss him.
