“ Such a GREAT loss!

As others have noted Christine was just a tremendous bright light when you went to the Medford Post Office. Not only did she know her stuff (all the other workers there would come to her with questions), but she treated all the customers to her great smile.

I was there one day in line when a real BRIDEZILLA verbally accosted her for 15 minutes or so because another postal clerk at a different P.O. told her she could send her invitations for a certain price and Christine told her that was not true.

After Bridezilla finally stormed out, those of us in line gave Christine an ovation for her cool. I know for sure I would not have taken what that girl gave to Christine.

Her co workers also have told me how much they miss Christine. It is not the same going into the post office anymore. Her memory will linger every time I go into the building her presence was that great!

She must have been a super person in "real" life as she was SUPER at work.

I work on the window at the Medford Post Office. When I first came there trying to win the bid for dispatch clerk Christine was the first person I spoke to. Always so thoughtful and personable. I won the bid and Christine was and Dawn is so helpful to me. I valued Christine's friendship so much. Think of her all the time. There are reminders everywhere. Wonderful person who is greatly missed.

“ Christine made the task of going to the post office something to look forward to - she never minded if I had 3 or so international packages, complete with long Greek names, and oddly spelled addresses. She was fun, bright, excellent at her job, quirky in the best way, with a keen dry wit. It is amazing when someone you only know casually impacts you; I'd actually be standing in line hoping to get waited on by her, because it would be a happy experience. My son was so sad to hear that she passed, remarking that she was so helpful in his e-bay business, making it easy and pleasant as he shipped hundreds of packages. The world surely lost a treasure - our sincerest sympathies to her family and loved ones. You were blessed to know such a cool and lovely person.

“ I worked with Christine at the Medford Post office. She was always nice to me and always was good with the customers at the counter. She loved to decorate the office and wear fun things at work that would put a smile on your face. She was a kind, caring individual. I will miss her.

“ I worked the window with Christene for the last two years. We were friends. She was a caring friend who cared about everyone and loved her family more than anything. She was there for me two years ago when I lost my husband. She would send me little things in the mail to brighten my day and show me that she was there when I was ready to talk. When I did go back to work she would hug me whenever she thought I needed it, which was a lot. She will be missed. We always talked about our ups and downs about life. She talked about how much she loved her family and how much she missed her sister Sharon when she was away. She went way beyond to help her customers and they all adored her. She will truly be missed. She is with god right now and that would make her happy
