“ I am so sorry to hear about the passing of Eric. I had Eric as a student in my psychology courses over the past three years and took pride in seeing him bloom as a student. Please know he made the most of his time at WVU and has made an impact on me as instructor that will last a lifetime. My deepest condolences.

“ I remember when my kids first met Eric and Jason, they were sitting across the street from each other in Philly throwing stones at each other. Who would have known that this would be the start of a great friendship between our families. Eric you have a magical smile that went along with your big heart and we are lucky that your were a part of our lives. Many happy memories will keep you in our hearts today and forever. Kurt, Terry, Jason & Jeff we are there for you guys always and especially through this diffult time.

“ Eric you were literally a brother to me. We been through so much together and no matter what we ended up laughing at the end of it. I can't believe your gone but every time I think about you I laugh like we always did. You were loved by so many and hated by absolutely no one. I'll never get over this but your in a better place now and I'll be here for your brothers especially Jason because you guys were best friends and loved eachother so much. Saturday is gonna be the worst day of my life but everyone will get through it together bud. Fly high Eric we all love you man

“ Eric always had a smile on his face. He was such a polite young man. I especially loved how patient Eric would be with my youngest son when he was small. Eric would patiently play basketball with my then 6 year old who would interrupt Eric's games regularly at the pool. Eric would just smile and tell me it was okay and he just continued on showing Dylan how to shoot the ball . Eric had a kind heart , which is no surprise , considering what good people his parents Kurt and Teresa are. I will continue to see Eric with a basketball in his hand and smile on his face whenever I drive down Edgemore.

“ Sweet Eric you have left us and we are devastated that you have gone but you will never be forgotten for the wonderful young man that you were. Our hearts are broken. Teresa, Kurt, Jeff and Jason so hard I can't imagine the pain you are experiencing but just know we are here and always will be. We love you.
