“ In all the days that I knew George, he was always good to me. He shared what he had with others and opened his home and hospitality to me. towards the end, if George knew I was coming over for dinner, he would not start the dinner until I was there to say the prayer. I felt honored by that. I heard many stories from Gaby about George in his life and business. I can say from what I have heard and seen, George practiced mercy and forgiveness. He gave people second, third, and fourth chances, even if they did not deserve it. I recognized this of George, because it was a Godly trait. At the end, God showed mercy to George. It was one of the people who owed him money, but George gave him many chances, that gave the gospel of Jesus Christ to him. And it was my wife Gaby, who George thought of as a daughter, that led him in the prayer. In George's last days, he accepted Jesus Christ as his Lord and savior. God showed to George what he had showed to others in life, mercy and forgiveness. God is good. Gaby and me was there with him as the Lord ushered George home. He has gone on to glory. Goodbye George. You will be missed. --- Kevin Klink

“ George, my friend and mentor. After 40 years by your side you had confidence in me and taught me many aspects of the car business as well as race horse adventures. We experienced fun times, stressful times and many changes in our lives. You were always a gentleman and all those years together , I think we had only half a dozen disputes/amazing! May you rest in peace, embracing your loved ones who preceded ypu. I will miss you tremendously! 🙏

“ I fondly remember the days when I worked for George Yelland alongside Gloria. Part of my duties were to walk "Cupcake" and feed her fresh tuna daily from a can! I will never forget the day George asked me to pick Jackie up from the airport during one of her weekends home from college....history was made that day as Jackie and I have been best friends ever since. Rooting on King Charles at Cherry Hill Racetrack was also a vivid, fun memory....George and Jackie were confident the horse would win, even with 30 to 1 odds...I was skeptical watching the race as they insisted "he always comes from behind to take the lead" that day, King Charles did take the lead and I found myself in the "winners circle" for the first time ever! George, you will be missed but never forgotten. Rest in Peace with the Angels on high...in the most magnificent winners circle of all!
