“ Gregory L. Keeports

“ I was very sad and sorry to read of Greg's death recently. It was my pleasure to have managed him from 1973 to 1976 on the Rohm and Haas Fayetteville NC CARODEL project, where he was a key supervisor for us and developed excellent managerial skills which served him well in the years following. I continued to be involved with him in various projects for two decades until my retirement in 1996. His dedication to excellence was well noted. I will miss him as a friend and colleague. Rest in peace, Greg.

“ Greg's passing is a sad day for all of us who knew and worked with him during his years with Rohm and Haas Corporate Engineering Division. He was my startup leader when I first transferred from the Bristol Plant in 1978 to the Engineering Division to join the KV-2 Project startup team at the Louisville Plant. It's doubly sad that the KV-2 startup process manager, Charlie Pinkow had also just passed away recently.

I found Greg to be a superior leader, technically and managerially knowledgeable, organized and methodical, calm, articulate, personable, with a quiet sense of humor. He showed me what good leadership can be, embodying certain qualities that hat impressed me and tried to adopt for myself.

Farewell, Greg, you'll live on in my memories. It's had been an honor and pleasure to have known and worked with you, rest in peace.

“ Greg and I worked together on projects often at Rohm and Haas Engineering. He taught me a lot. Great guy. Too young to pass. My sympathies to the Keeports family.
