I will always remember Mr. Lang, he left an impression on me. He was not only funny but an exceptional teacher with amazing theatre talent. The productions he presented were extremely entertaining! May he Rest In Peace.

I just heard about Mr. Lang's passing and I was so sad to hear the news. He was such a wonderful part of our grammar-school days. He was so committed, so invested, so excited to pass along his love for the arts to his students, and he gave us a gift that we still enjoy today. Besides opening a window for us to the arts — until I met him, my life had been consumed with only sports — he helped us forge friendships I still have today. Those friendships grew during the plays he directed (Oliver, Music Man, etc), and when we get together 50 years later, it's still not uncommon for us to break into the lines from those plays! Look, whaddya talk, whaddaya you talk! Thank you, Mr. Lang, for being there for us and putting the arts into our lives! I wish his beautiful family all the best. RIP, my friend. — Sam Carchidi, Wenonah, NJ

“ Tom had a vast variety of books that he read. He would often tell me of a series he had read that he thought I, too, would like. We had lots of good chats in the sun-room of his home in Lumberton.

He never failed to talk about Alice and "the kids". He was proud of all the successes that the family has earned and enjoyed. He was a proud husband, father, and grandfather. Not too long ago, he said her didn't know about this great-grandfather thing, but "My, those are cute little children!"

I enjoyed knowing this fine man and his wife and treasure our talks and walks (to the mailbox!). Barbara Lewis
