“ Joan was always there to help anyone who needed it. She would always ask me if everything was ok; always wearing her heart on her sleeve. She loved her students and enjoyed teaching. Never once did she ever complain. She will be missed by many. God has another angel with him now. She is at peace now and with her sister and father. My thoughts are with her family and may she look down on them and bless them.

“ The school didn't matter. It could have been Lawrence, Smith, Boudinot or Watts. Joan loved every student. On the days Joan came into my classroom she made me smile. I will always remember the times in the teachers' lunchroom Joan always had us laughing with her stories. Her memory will live on in the lives she touched both in the staff and students she had the pleasure of interacting with.
