“ Joe was one of my brother’s best friends. I was the younger sister, so Joe knew me as that even decades later. As that younger sibling, I wanted to know what the boys were doing. They were always together for they seemed to always be doing the “cool” things. Over the years, I knew him as a solid friend who would do superhuman acts if called for and always had a listening ear. He will be greatly missed. Love, Sha-Sha

“ There's a memory of Joe that will always be in my mind it's him tossing the football on the front lawn of his In-laws Bruce and Linda's house. Almost every Sunday when Joe would be there with the family you could see that this was one of the ways this loving father would enjoy his time with his kids. I will miss this but i know the kids will always have this memory of their father in their hearts. God bless the Mendoza family.

“ When I first met Julius, about 8 or 9 years ago, I found that we had a similar work ethic and family life. He loved to talk about his kids, work, and sports. I’m going to miss the talks we had about everything. I saw a lot of myself in Julius because we both love our families above everything. I just can’t believe that he is gone. He is going to be deeply missed by me and all of us here at work. I will always remember our Christmas party trip to Minnesota where our wives met and we all got to try curling for the first time. That was a great trip.

Lisa and family, my thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. It was a joy to work in the presence of Julius. I will never forget the time we had working together. Susan and I are here if you need anything at all. Julius (Joe) will be in our hearts and memories.

“ Julius was a leader, hard worker, an intelligent guy with an awesome personality! He was a humble man who truly cared about his family, friends and career. Everyone loved the guy including myself.

A few days ago, I called Julius to see how he was doing in life - in general (I had no idea he was in the hospital). When I realized his phone was off I knew something was wrong but I didn't know what happened. I really wanted to thank Julius for the training he gave me in the past because today, as I speak, I am a Field Service Tech and now it saddens me more that I didn't get the chance to thank him one last time.

Spiritually and respectfully Julius, I thank you one last time my friend. You didn't deserve to suffer this way and nobody does but life was taken from you too quickly. I will never forget the guy who first trained me as a Field Tech! You will be greatly missed by many people including myself. May you rest in peace.

“ Back in 2008, I took a job and Julius was my field training supervisor, I rode with him for three weeks. Unlike most experiences I have had in that situation, he was very generous with his willingness to teach me, and patient with my inexperience. He showed me the ropes and shared with me some "tricks of the trade" that I still employ today. He had a very low-key, relaxed style that I think drew people he interacted with to him.

One day, I noticed that he was wearing a DALLAS COWBOYS ring - it looked like a Superbowl ring? What do I know? So I am wondering, was this guy a kicker maybe? At the end of the day, I asked him about it and he laughed and said it was just a fan ring.

I worked with the company for a couple years, didn't get to interact with him much after that, but whenever his name came up, it was always with fondness and respect for a superior coworker by all.

My deepest sympathies to his family and friends - the world lost a good soul.

“ I meet Julius back in 1998. Once I found out he was a Superman fanatic, that’s what I called him, Superman. We were both working for the same company. We instantly bonded after we found out we both went to the same tech school (Lincoln Tech). We played basketball together, lost money in Atlantic City together, and argued about Cowboys vs Eagles.

We would have lunch every couple weeks at Hing Far Chinese restaurant in Pennsauken ( he loved that place).

He invited me to his wedding, and he was a groomsman in mine, as well as the god father to my youngest son.

He was a family man at heart, I admired him for being a great father and husband. Just an all around great guy!

My thoughts and prayers go out to his wife and children and all of his family. We love you Superman and will miss you tremendously!
