“ So many where do I start?? I remember going to a store..probably M & E Marine..or Nichols...or Robert Hall and having to run to keep up with his fast paced walking! And later..when I started in sales he told me to sell a lot for a little....He convinced me that foreign cars were taking the food off American childrens dinner tables...to this day I have only owned Chevys or Fords and naturally Harley Davidsons! He taught me to be a conservative...and to only vote Republican because it was good for the economy...he taught me to love going fast...and to love the rush of adrenalin that you can only get from living on the edge...like he did with his toys.. He was my hero...my idol...probably my biggest fan.....we had a connection...and I miss him terribly..I was blessed he was my father...Godspeed Dad!!

“ Lee was indeed a special friend. .We truly enjoyed his company at many of our cookouts and Christmas get togethers. He was wonderful company, because he always focused on others: their interests, their jobs ,etc., despite the fact that he had lead an interesting life with many a unique story to share. He loved the Lord, so we share his faith that one day we will spend eternity together. We loved you, Lee. Frank & Beth Ferraro

He was our big brother. He lived on the edge enjoying whatever he was doing. I think he was more like our brother Bobby than any body would've thought. Miss you Lee (and love you forever) 🥹🥰

My "big" brother...will miss him forever. A gentle soul who truly cared about others and showed it. Loved our trips together. We would always lose him and then find him talking to a stranger he met. He believed in tipping generously and helping where you can. He was a Democrat at heart. 😊 He stood firmly behind the working man and wasn't afraid of hard work himself. At holiday dinners at home, he would always be the first to the kitchen sink to start washing up so we could all sit down together. Loved his summers at the farm hanging out with his bachelor uncles. Will always be remembered by those whose lives he touched. Too many loving memories to share.

My Father was NEVER a DEMORAT, that I can assure you, terrible thing to say about him, he was proud to be a REPUBLICAN!
