“ I knew Marlene in high school. We were good friends during that time and she always made me laugh. I always regretted I did not stay in touch with her. I was looking for her online the other day and came across her passing. It was sad to read about her passing. I did take the time to go through the video and enjoyed seeing the beautiful life she made. Just remembering her makes me smile!

“ My memories of Marlene are countless. As cousins we grew up together and always had a close relationship. Our family parties consisted of laughter and dancing and she was usually the last to leave. We were always quick to jump at the opportunity to spend time together choosing family over others. There is a giant hole in my heart that will never be filled. Forever in my heart, Mar. LYM

“ Condolences to the Family:

Marlene was truly a beautiful soul. She always had kind words of encouragement whenever you talked to her. She was a big ball of love. Whenever she approached you, it was with her arms wide open to give you the biggest hug. Marlene will be missed. Wishing the family peace, love and comfort.

“*Marlene
Queen of the Cousins*

I can still hear her telling the never-ending story of the monkey cousins.

It went something like this:

“Once upon a time there was this monkey named ... and she had a monkey cousin named ... and this monkey had a cousin named ... and that monkey cousin had another monkey cousin named ...”

*That was the whole story!
It went on and on like that cousin after cousin after cousin...*

I have to say I was mesmerized every time she told that silly story.

Maybe it was the way she said the word “cousin”... It was like it magic.

*We will all miss you Marlene

Your cousin Michele Fabian*

“ My deepest condolences to Marlene's family. Some of you might remember me as Stacy Siegel. It is with a heavy heart that I share memories of Marlene stemming back over 55 years to our childhood. We shared everything in our lives for over 30 years, memories that are too many to list. We went from children to adolescents to teenagers and then adults together. We shared joy, sadness and secrets with each other. At some point we got busy with our lives and lost touch. We then reconnected a couple of years ago, which I now wish had happened many years before. Marlene was funny, strong (small but mighty), loving, generous and most of all a good person. She was also very inquisitive. I used to joke with her that she always looked like she had a question mark on her face. She will be missed by us but welcomed with open arms elsewhere. RIP my good friend ❤️

“ Offering my deepest condolences to Marlene's family during this difficult time. Having met her in court reporting school, I grew to learn what a strong, determined and independent woman she was. No surprise she would create a successful court reporting agency all on her own while navigating life. I always told her she was a rock star and now her star is shining bright in the Heavens. I will miss you, my friend, rest easy, you have earned your wings.

“ Sending prayers and hugs to Marlene's family and friends. She was such an incredibly strong woman and personality, I admired so much. I'll always hold dear our early and late hour business chats. We will carry on in your name and the court reporting world mourns your passing. You will be missed, my friend. RIP💔
