Richard, Rich, Richie, Uncle Rich.. We are so incredibly shocked and saddened by your sudden passing. You & Carol have been such a big part of our life.. our family.. You took Mike to his first ever Eagles Game and were just always so much fun to be around. Your smile lit up a room & your love for Carol and your family was so beautiful. A truly genuine, beautiful person. You will forever live in our hearts. So many wonderful memories of you. We will continue to pray for you and Carol and your family. Rest peacefully in Jesus' arms. We love you.

“ On Saturday morning, January 20, 2018, I received a text from my mother that said Richie had passed away. My jaw dropped and I let out an expletive similar to the one many of you probably said. Not only because the world just lost a husband, father, grandpa, and overall good man. That text told me a piece of my father just died. Because that’s the kind of effect Richie had on people close to him. He was practically my dad’s brother.

I’ll always think of Richie when I remember certain moments in my life. He’s one of the reasons I knew my voice had matured, haha. Because, when I answered the house phone in my late teens, it was usually Richie who would immediately respond with “Yo, Buck!”. At which point I would yell, “Dad! Richie’s on the phone!” I always chuckled about that.

Richie was there when my dad took me with his friends on my first trip to Las Vegas. We were there to celebrate the Super Bowl, and Richie sat next to me as a guide while I played blackjack. At the end of the trip I joined Richie for one last game and I lost my winnings, but he helped me learn to laugh it off.

And I’ll always remember his smile. I could easily pick it out of a crowd from far away. That smile was the first thing I saw answering the door when Richie stopped by my parent’s house numerous times over the years. Usually he was just making a quick football pool drop off, but he’d follow it up with a quick conversation about how I was doing. He’d always end it with “Go Birds!” before hustling back to his car idling out front.

I feel lucky my father knew well enough to keep a good man like Richie in his life. And I’m thankful Richie played a small part in mine. He will be missed.

“ BIG DADDY! will be missed! Always bee bobbing around while doing his lawn. Always happy and so so positive. Never had a bad day that I saw. With his head sets in singing and mowing. I missed both Carol and Rich when they moved from next door. Both Walt and I understood, they had big plans. They were one of best neighbors we ever had. Carol you were so right in saying God made a huge mistake with this one! If you ever need anything please don't hesitate to reach out to us.

May God Bless you and your family at this very difficult time. You will always be in our thoughts and prayers. We love you Big Daddy and we will miss you.

“ FIRST IN ALL I WOULD LIKE TO SEND THOUGHTS AND PRAYERS TO THE FAMILY AND PRAY THAT EVERYONE STAYS STRONG DURING THIS TIME OF SADNESS. EVERYONE SHOULD BE BLESSED WITH FOND MEMORIES AND CELEBRATE THE LIFE THAN MOURNE THE DEATH ... BE STRONG AND THE SADNESS WILL SURPASS

I'VE KNOWN RICH FOR MANY MANY YEARS . MY PARENTS USED TO CAMP WITH HERMAN AND DOT AND THAT WAS WHEN I FIRST KNEW RICH SOME 40 YEARS AGO . THEN FROM THAT POINT ON IT BECAME ONE MEMORY AFTER ANOTHER GROWING UP AND WHATEVER RICH PURSUED HE ALWAYS GAVE 110%. WEATHER IT WAS FAMILY LIFE OR SPORTS AND YOU NEVER PASSED HIS PRESENCE WITHOUT SEEING A SMILE ON HIS FACE OR A HEARTY WARM WELCOME. RICH YES YOU'LL BE MISSED BY MANY ...BUT YOUR CALLING HAS COME FROM A HIGHER POWER AND NOW WE WILL LOOK UP TO SEEK YOUR GUIDENCE . REST IN PEACE MY FRIEND AND GODS SPEED.

“ So very shocked, and saddened. I will always remember his cheerful disposition, and especially his unabashed singing at the top of his lungs. He could be heard a couple of aisles away. When I helped out in the Floral dept. when it was next to the meat dept., it was a concert! He made Audubon Acme a nicer place during his reign as our Meat Manager. Such a testament to his personality to always be so upbeat in the retail industry, especially with the stress and responsibilities of management. It is true what they say "the good do die young" Prayers and condolences to his Family, Friends, Colleagues, and all who will miss him, that they may have the strength to endure.

“ I loved Rich like a Brother. Growing up in Lenola, Grade School, Middle School, High School, Adulthood, playing softball, going to the Casino's in A.C., Super Bowl Weekend trips to Las Vegas, many Sixers games, many Phillie games, our many years as Eagles Season Ticket holders, bowling, betting the ponies (Rich loved to bet the 5 horse), so many other fond memories. I remember how happy Rich was when he married Carol. Their marriage was extremely important to him, his number one priority. Eileen and I took wonderful vacations with them to Las Vegas and Alaska. There were many Kodak moments. We always looked forward to going out to dinner with them. I could go on and on. I am going to miss Rich big-time and will never forget him.

“ I worked at Acme in Westmont with Rich. You were always guaranteed a smile and a laugh when you saw him. Even after I stopped working for the company, he would always greet me and ask me how I was doing when I stopped in. He will be missed but not forgotten.

“ Richard was a good man, a loving and caring individual. He loved life, his friends and his family, it was important to him to take care of all us. I am going to miss you “Big Daddy!” I always called him “Big Daddy Rich”, he would always slide my son Colin (his grandson and best buddy) money on the side or as Rich would call it “cabbage”. I loved the relationship Richard and Colin had, they were best buds! They did a lot of things together, Sixers games, Eagles games, they played basketball together and tossed around the pig skin, he gave Colin a lot of life experiences, and I will forever be thankful for the time they had.
