“ Sorry to hear about your Dad's passing. Chrissy called me to ask me about the street hockey goals he made for us out of the pipes and chicken wire. I guess Jimmy had said something about that on facebook. I also remember him helping us with the goalie pads. I think it was his idea to put the smashed coffee can right below the knee so we wouldn't tear them up when we went down on our knees.

The other memory I have is stacking the newspapers in your garage to recycle them. Correct me if I am wrong but wasn't it his idea that got the Yung boys started in that little entrepreneurial endeavor?

Sorry we can't make it down to pay our respects.
