“ Bobbie was one of the most positive people I've ever had the pleasure of knowing. She was so loving and affectionate, she gave you her undivided attention and you could feel her love when she looked at you. She particularly loved children and had many favorite photos of friends and family on her frig. By far, her best quality was her infectious laugh/giggle. That is something I'll always remember about her. She knew how to enjoy the simple things in life and made the most of her failing health, always keeping things in perspective. There are many lessons to be learned from her stoic approach to her very long life. Fondly, Patti Conlan Bush.
