“ I met Stanley at CareOne. My Mom has been in & out of there for the past 15 months & so I've spent a lot of time there. Stanley was a nice man & I always enjoyed seeing him & talking to him. He asked me one time if I worked there & when I said no, that I was only visiting, he expressed disappointment & said that if I did, he was going to ask me to get him a beer. :)

He was very well thought of by the staff, both because of his personality & because of his service as a Marine. I'm very sorry for your loss. May he Rest in Peace.

“ This is from Barbara Sadlowski-Milensky who lived on the corner of Danforth and Dewey across from Uncle Stas’

“My sympathy to your family for the loss of this good man. Having been raised in a Polish neighborhood, he looked like he could be family. He obviously believed in dedication and was dignified in his bearing and deeds. Rest In Peace Stasiu.

“ Although I never met Mr. Woyshner, I have little doubt that his passing is a substantial loss. Having had the good fortune to know Bob & Billy these many years verifies inventor Chas. F. Kettering's observation that "every father should remember that one day his sons will follow his example instead of his advice." Stanley T. must have been quite a guy.
